the developers

For over 40 years, Aston has built an impeccable reputation in the retail real estate industry across the Southeast and Mid-Atlantic. This reputation has been earned through the skills and dedication of Aston's people and is manifested in client success. Our reputation is built on honoring commitments and respecting relationships. Aston is known by employees, business partners, lenders, tenants and contractors alike for performance, reliability and integrity. We remain true to our vision of improving the quality of shopping experiences through responsible retail development and best practices in property leasing and management.

Marsh Properties has been positively influencing the heritage of the Charlotte community since 1926 when 26-year-old North Carolina native Lex Marsh built his first multi-family residence. The family-owned company continues to exceed the standards of the real estate industry by focusing on superior craftsmanship and progressive concepts in various new developments across the Charlotte market. In Mecklenburg County and surrounding areas, Marsh Properties has developed and maintained iconic landmark communities and currently owns and manages nearly 2,000 residences, as well as neighborhood shopping centers and office buildings throughout the Queen City.
